

Challenge Problem 18: Tic-Tac-Fractal

A fractal shape is created by subdividing a square into 9 equal squares and then shading the center square. Then this process is repeated in of the four corner squares resulting in a sequence of smaller shaded squares as pictured below. What portion of the original square is shaded?

